A PRAYER FOR THE SORROWING.

☞"And there appeared an angel unto him from Heaven, strengthening him."

God! hear my prayer,
Thou who hast poured the essence of thy life
Into this urn, this feeble urn of clay;
Thou who amidst the tempest's gloom and strife
Art the lone star that guides me on my way;
When my crushed heart, by constant striving torn,
Flies shuddering from its own impurity,
And my faint spirit, by its sorrows worn,
Turns with a cry of anguish unto thee—
Hear me, oh God! my God!

Oh, this strange mingling in of life and death,
Of soul and substance! Let me comprehend
The hidden secret of life's fleeting breath,
My being's destiny, its aim and end.
Show me the impetus that urged me forth,
Upon my lone and dreary pathway driven,
The secret force that binds me down to earth,
While my sad spirit yearns for home and heaven—
Hear me, oh God! my God!

The ruby life drops from my heart are wrung,
By this deep conflict of my soul in prayer,
The words lie burning on my feeble tongue—
And me, oh Father! let me not despair.
Save, Lord! I perish! save me, ere I die!
My rebel spirit mocks at thy control—
The raging billows rise to drown my cry,
The floods of anguish overwhelm my soul—
Hear me, oh God! my God!

Peace! peace! oh willful, wayward heart, be still!
For lo! the messenger of God is near!
Bow down submissive to the Father's will,
In "perfect love" that "casteth out all fear."
Oh pitying spirit, from the home above!
No longer shall my chastened heart rebel;
Fold me, oh fold me in thine arms of love!
I know my Father "doeth all things well,"
I will not doubt his changeless love again.
Amen! my heart repeats Amen!

Miscellaneous.

"Yea, I Have Loved Thee with an Everlasting Love."

The healthy mind never doubts for a moment the Father's love for his children. In perfect adaptation to man's requirements are found skies and earth and sea; and the seasons, as they roll, give a variety which is beneficial to both soul and frame Man's loveliest dreams of heaven are scarcely more than he realizes in favored moments upon earth. The green pastures where the Good Shepherd leads his flock have their types here, and the "river of life" we imagine to be the calm, deep stream, scarcely more clear and gentle in its flow than that beside which we linger, listening to its sweetly plaintive melody.

And, as we gaze through measureless heights, not void and dark, but luminous with worlds that thought cannot number, we are tempted to ask, is there aught sublimer than this in the better land? Has not God's everlasting love satisfied our reasonable desires even here?

The ocean, lovely in its hues, changing with every hour, seemingly infinite in its boundless sweep, chanting its low, sad song that charms while it subdues, speaks it not to us of the love that robed it in beauty and gave it music of its own?

Every flower that flings its perfume to the breeze, each bird that pours its happiness in song, the blended voices of Nature that come to us in far-off solitudes, bear the messages of a love that is perfect, of a care that is eternal. Around our daily paths has not God strewn blessings more than we can number? For homes of peace and plenty, for society, purified and restrained by Christian influences, for the love of parents and children and the precious interchanges of friendship, we must offer grateful acknowledgments, and receive them as evidences of a goodness that is commensurate with Almighty power.

God's love is a necessity and truth for the individual heart. No matter how favored the condition, there must mingle in every lot sorrow and disappointment; and there will come hours when the soul cries out for more efficient help than lover and friend can afford, and in these seasons where shall it find repose save in the arms of the Eternal?

An everlasting love! Poverty nor sickness nor sin can touch it; time cannot wither its immortal bloom; it is too deep to be rooted out, it is too high for earthly storms to blight it; and death, itself, is but its messenger to call the worn and weary wanderer back to the Father's mansions.

Such is the love that gave us being, that ministers to our daily life, that afflicts in mercy, that crowns our passing hours with happiness, that permits us a hope so glorious as to bear us in triumph over the roughest paths and through the darkest shadows.

They never doubt God's love whose lives are holy. By their own purity they are so nearly allied to Him that they see less darkly than the sinner the evidences of His beneficence; and the budding leaf and early flower of spring, the mature and queenly beauty of the summer, the teeming harvest fields of autumn, and the seeming rest but real activity of Nature's forces in winter, are to them all eloquent of the Creator. The Watchman of their Israel neither slumbers nor sleeps.

An everlasting love! Existing before the great Architect pronounced this fair earth good, it will go with us into eternity without a shadow of change. The love of friends, so precious to us, may falter or die, and can aid us only to the grave's dark entrance, but the love of God will light that dreaded pathway and make for us the heaven for which we long and pray.

If the knowledge of this love does not sanctify the daily life, and if it be not reflected from our faith and hope, how deeply do we sin against God—what ingratitude do we manifest towards One whose very name is love. What a refuge is confidence in Him, amid the fluctuations of fortune, what a cheering consoler when sorrow presses heavily, what a balm to the tortured breast of pain!

Without it, O, how dark and cheerless would life become, as one by one the friends of our youth go out of our presence to return no more; as from varying causes the props upon which we lean are withdrawn

With God's love filling all our being we are peaceful, resigned, content; strong when temptations come, confident amid afflictions, assured that at last, when flesh and strength fail, and the tones that we love are inaudible to the dull sense, a voice will pierce the silence, and the departing soul shall hear it, and the burden of its consolation will be, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love," saith the Lord.—New England Farmer.

TRIBUTE TO A NOBLE WOMAN.—Miss Medkirk, a teacher in the Fourteenth District School at Cincinnati, who, during the memorable tornado in that city on the 21st of May, at the peril of her own life, nobly preserved the lives of the pupils under her charge, by resolutely standing at the door, although painfully wounded, and preventing their egress, was, on Saturday last, presented by a number of citizens with a gold watch, valued at $175, and suitably inscribed She was also granted the freedom of the street railroads of the city, and about twenty of the railroads running out of or having connection with the city, so that she can enjoy the benefit of the travel when she is sufficiently recovered from her injuries to leave the house.

☞Two young ladies of this city [Philadelphia is the home of the writer] were lately spending the summer in northwestern New York. During their visit they took several long rides with the daughter of their host about the country. On one of these occasions—as they had been traveling some distance, and the day was warm, and as a trough of running-water stood invitingly by the road-side—they concluded to give their pony a drink. One of the city ladies agreed to get out and arrange matters for this purpose. The others remaining in the carriage, and deeply engaged in conversation, for some time paid no attention to the proceedings of their companion. When, at last, surprised at the long delay, they turned to ascertain its cause, they discovered her endeavoring to unbuckle the crupper (this being the name, I believe of the strap which passes around the horse's caudal appendage.) In amazement, they inquired, "What in the world are you doing that for?" she naively replied, "Why, I'm unbuckling this strap to let the horse's head down so he can drink!"

Couldn't Fool Her

The Lafayette Courier tells an amusing story of some young ladies and gents of that place who were taking a social walk near the cemetery when a ghost appeared. They all ran but one sturdy woman of the strong minded class who stood to her post, when she seized it, and thrust out of his frightful disguise a mischievous fellow who had the project of walking near the graveyard disguised and had hid himself there to give the party a fright. She led him back to the house, and in reply to the questions that now poured in upon her, said: "Can't fool me! I have seen too many men in sheets to get frightened at them!"

How a Lady Canvassed in Ireland.

A correspondent of the Waterford Mail gives the following anecdote of the late election for Clare:

"The contest turned wholly upon personal popularity, and Calcutt, who is a fair-me-like, jolly Irish gentleman, was better calculated to win upon the people than the fashionable young captain of a crack corps. His wife, too, would make the fortune of any candidate. A fine, dashing woman, she rode about the country in the carriage with her husband in his canvassing expeditions; and, when he was one day in a public house, seeing a parish committee, and she was outside in the barouche, awaiting his return, the frieze coats gathered round the vehicle, and, giving three cheers 'for her honor,' called upon her to make a speech. Promptly she replied, 'I won't trouble you, my friends, with my oratory, but I'll sing you a song, which an Irishman, with music in his soul, would any day prefer to a speech;' and with that, in a clear and pleasant voice, she struck up 'Let Erin remember,' and followed the ditty with several other melodies of Moore. A person who witnessed the scene assured me there was nothing incongruous about it; the lady sung her best, and entered into the spirit of her song, and the frieze coats listened entranced. From that moment forth, during the canvass, she never appeared in public without having to sing a song."

☞How women do admire weddings! not their own merely, but anybody's. How they throng the churches "just to hear the ceremony you know." Then what animated descriptions of the whole affair, what glowing accounts of what the bride "had on." What criticisms of the bridesmaids. In short, what an immense amount of simper, and giggle, and prattle—all because two inoffensive young people are going, in a legal and orderly way, to set up housekeeping. Funny, isn't it.—Boston Post.

☞The age of a young lady is now expressed according to the present style of skirts, by saying that eighteen springs have passed over her head.

☞How many a man, by throwing himself to the ground in despair, crushes and destroys forever a thousand flowers of hope that were ready to spring up and gladden all his pathway.

☞The entire population of Philadelphia is not much less than 700,000, and it covers more ground than any other city in the Union Its whole length is twenty-three miles, and its average width is about five-and-a-half. This gives it an area of not far from eighty-two thousand seven hundred acres. Within the limits of the city, there are one hundred thousand dwelling-houses, five thousand manufactories, ten thousand five hundred stores, three hundred and twenty churches, three hundred school-houses, eighteen banks, fourteen cemeteries, nine railroad depots, sixty engine-houses.

THE PITTSBURG IRON TRADE.—In the city of Pittsburg, Pa., and vicinity, there are 25 rolling mills, which produce 100,000 tons of bar, sheet and nail iron annually. At present, however, the business is very dull. The defeat of the Tariff bill covers like a pall the forges, foundries and workshops.

☞Pat was helping Mr. Blank to get a safe in his office one day, and not being acquainted with the article, inquired what it was for "To prevent paper and other articles which are placed in it from being burnt, in case of fire," said Mr. B. "An' sure, will nothing iver burn that is put in that thing?" "No." "Well, then, yer honor, ye'd better be after gettin' in that same thing whin ye die." Mr. Blank 'wilted'

☞Shortly after the battle of Princeton, a witty Scotch farmer amused himself by writing a humorous ballad upon it, which so stung one of the officers, who had behaved very badly on the occasion, that he sent the poet a challenge to meet him at H——, for mortal combat. The second found the farmer busy with his pitchfork, to whom he delivered the challenge of the redoubtable hero. The good humored farmer, with his agricultural implement in his hand, coolly said: "Gang awa' back to Mester Smith, and tell him I hae nae time to come to H——, to give him satisfaction; but that if he likes to come here, I'll just do as he did, I'll run awa'!"

☞In one of the Ohio districts, where a man named Abbey, is taking the census, he arrived at a farm house the other day, and in the absence of the men, proceeded to ask questions of the ladies.

"Ladies," politely said the Judge, "how many male cows have you?"

"We have no male cows," replied a young lady—a sweet, ethereal creature of 200 pounds weight—"but we have a gentleman bull calf!"

The Judge put it down.

☞"My son, define net-work." "A complication of thread, twine or cords, united at certain distances, forming meshes, interstices or open spaces between the knots, or intersections; reticulated work" "Very good; now define Democracy, as it exists in the United States." "I can't" "Well, I will tell you. At the South it is pro-slavery, at the North anti-slavery; in Virginia it is free trade, in Pennsylvania protection to American industry, in New England almost Native Americanism, out West it means the foreigners, and everywhere it is plunder." "O father, I can define net-work, but Democracy changes so I can't define it." The child was right.

CONVERSATIONAL SUBSITUTES.—In lieu of the well-known phrase "cork up," we are now to have "poultice your gob," or "easy with your meat-trap." For "mind your eye." "look out for your shutters;" and for "give him one on the nose," "let him have a tickler on his snuff-box." But the best thing of the kind we have heard yet, is of a precocious youth, who described to his sister a visit to his pretty cousin in this way: "When I bid her good-bye, I gave her a smack on her kisser!"

ONE OF THE WIDOWS.—The Brunswick Telegraph tells a good story, which, it says, is literally true, of a young widow down the Kennebec, who said to an acquaintance who was condoling with her upon the recent death of her spouse, "I hope you will excuse my not crying, but the fact is, crying always makes my nose bleed."

A SAGE REMARK.—Judge M'Clure, of Pittsburg, in charging a jury in a Sunday liquor case, spoke of whiskey shops, and said, if these furnaces were kept in full blast for six days in the week, they should be allowed to cool off on Sunday, and give their stomachs a chance to take in a little cold water to cool their timbers for Monday.

☞A few days since, a barber offered a reward of $10 for the best recipe, "instantly removing superfluous hair." Among the answers was one forwarded by a gentleman who speaks from experience. We give it:—"Undertake to kiss a spunky woman against her will."

LACONIC.—Tom.—"What ails your eye, Jo?"

Jo.—"I told a man he lied."

☞We know a very pretty young lady who has a bashful lover named Joy. She is impatient to have him 'pop the question,' and thinks of availing herself of the female privilege of Leap Year. In that case she would 'Leap for Joy.'

☞A country girl recently asked a city acquaintance to go with her to purchase some articles, and to act as spokeswoman. They entered a store, and the city girl asked, "Have you got any hose?" "I don't want hoes," said the country maiden, "I want stockings."

How the Bite of a Dog Should be Treated.

Dr. Stephen Ware, of Boston, in his testimony in a recent case which grew out of injuries from the bite of a dog, furnished the following valuable advice:

"In case of the bite by a dog where the teeth of the animal penetrated the flesh, whether the dog was known to be mad or not, he should use the same precautions.—He would wash the wound with warm water, extract all the virus possible by sucking the wound with his lips, and then cauterize it deeply with the caustic most readily obtained, but should use potash if it could be procured at once. The time in which the effects of the bite of a rabid dog would be seen, varied from two to three days to as many years, but if no effects were felt after two or three months, as a general thing the patient might feel himself safe. Bites made through clothing are seldom productive of much harm, even if the dog is mad; the clothing absorbs the virus before the teeth reach the flesh. Most of all the fatal cases occurred where the person was bitten on some naked part. Concerning the possibility of a cure in a real case of hydrophobia nothing was said"

Turnips.

Don't forget to sow turnip seed "on the 25th day of July, wet or dry," and for that you must begin to prepare your land at once. Bone dust, or super-phosphate of lime, is the best manure that you can use, and you can use it liberally, and it will pay you well for its cost. A good crop of turnips will help you out wonderfully when you run short of hay.

HARD BUTTER WITHOUT ICE.—To have delightfully hard butter in summer, without ice, the plan recommended by that excellent and useful publication, the Scientific American, is a good one Put a trivet, or any open flat thing with legs, in a saucer; put on this trivet the plate of butter; fill the saucer with water; turn a common flower-pot upside down over the butter, so that its edge shall be within the saucer and under the water; plug the hole of the flower-pot with a cork, then drench the flower-pot with water; set it in a cool place until morning, or if done at breakfast the butter will be very hard by supper time. How many of our town boarding-school girls, who have been learning philosophy, astronomy, syntax and prosody, can write an explanation of this within a month?

THE HARMONIOUS—SPLIT VS. SPLIT.—We find the following in one of our exchanges:

"Abe and his rails" O worse than idle tale—
We Democrats can lay you on the shelf.
Boast of a man who's only split a rail!
Our good old party's gone and SPLIT ITSELF!

☞Southern Senators have fallen into an ugly habit of denouncing poor men and those who labor in the sweat of their brow. Senator Hammond pronounces them the "mud-sills of human society." Senator Wigfall, in his spirited manner, calls them "CRIMINALS," and Senator Green says they are "poor, infamous SCOUNDRELS," and "LAZZARONI." If these are to be regarded as the sentiments of the Democratic party, announced through its leaders, it is high time such a disgraceful organization were broken up.—Louisville Journal.

TEXAS NABOBS.—The editor of the Democrat, who has been engaged in taking the census in Brazoria county, says that he found six planters whose landed interest in this State amounts to 360,658 acres of land; they together own 27,981 head of cattle, and last year raised 74,500 bushels of corn. The aggregate wealth of the six amounts to two million two thousand three hundred and twenty-three dollars.

☞Coal oil is said to be a sure destroyer of bed bugs. Apply plentifully with a small brush or feather to the places where they most do congregate. The cure is effectual and permanent. Gilt frames, chandeliers, &c. rubbed lightly over with coal oil will not be disturbed by flies.

☞There is a wonderful mean man up in Noble county, Indiana. Some time ago he got a divorce from his wife, who, being left without support, became a charge upon the county. The husband solicited, and obtained the keeping of her; and he now maintains her as a pauper at the expense of the county! That is tolerably mean, we think.

☞The Oswego Times tells a good story of a fashionable lady of that village, whose parents are not possessed of wealth in proportion to her pretenses, who excused herself to a visitor for doing housework, thus: "Mother and I do our own housework, because it is so exceedingly romantic."

☞An Arkansas traveler says that he knew a young fellow down South who was so fond of a young woman that he rubbed off his nose kissing her shadow on the wall.

JAPANESE NEVER "POCKET A BLOW."—They blow their noses on square pieces of soft paper, which are thrown away with once using. Our system of pocket-handkerchiefs is, to them, very uncleanly.

A PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE.—The Ohio Journal of Education gives an account of a school in that State, where, out of thirty-five scholars, nine boys chew tobacco and five girls are smokers.

☞It is stated, in a Cleveland paper, that the present season three thousand seven hundred and seventy bushels of strawberries and cherries were shipped by five dealers in the first three weeks of the month of June.

The Union.

The perpetuity of the Union is an absolute necessity. The fears of the timid and the hopes of ambitious traitors are scarcely worth passing a notice. No party or class can derive the least possible benefit from dissolution, while every individual in the nation, North and South, would receive a positive and lasting injury.

The truthfulness of this assertion is so self-evident to the great mass of the American people that the disunionists are few in number, weak in intellect, and depraved in heart. They are not statesmen; they are not even politicians. They disgrace the name of demagogues. They are traitors. They are candidates for jails and gibbets. Their pictures would confer no honor on the rogues' gallery.

Against this miserable fragment of a fragmentary party, we see arrayed the intelligence, virtue, patriotism, and common sense of the country. The masses, from the lakes to the gulf, are true to the spirit of their ancestors, and will leave the rich heritage unstained to their children.

We know the charge of "disunion" has been made against the Republicans. But a more groundless accusation was never made against any party. On the contrary, we believe they constitute the true conservative, Constitutional Union party. They utter no threat of secession in the event of a defeat next November, but steadily adhere to the determination to abide by the decision of the people. Their motto is, the Union, now and forever.

☞The Baltimore American, speaking of the probable result of the running of two Presidential tickets by the Democratic party, says:

"The distinguished characteristic of the two nominations is that each is strong as against the other. As against Mr. Douglas in the North, Mr Breckenridge can only hopelessly divide the Democratic party.—Whilst in the South, with Breckenridge formally and authoritatively nominated by a majority of delegates from the Southern States, it may be taken for granted that Mr. Douglas cannot receive from that section of the country a single electoral vote. If, therefore, the battle is fought out upon the programme indicated by the present position of the contending forces, the election of the Republican candidate is a fore-ordained certainty."

The Split in Missouri.

The Breckenridge party of Missouri have nominated candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, so that there are now two tickets in the field. The bridge is broken, and the chasm which separates the two factions is henceforth and forever impassable. The prospect now is that Lincoln and Hamlin will carry the State.

☞The Delaware INQUIRER hoists the flag of Breckenridge and Lane—upside down—and calls it the "disunion nomination." While the two wings of the unterrified are fighting in the Diamond State, the friends of Lincoln will bear off the prize.

☞An old problem has recently been solved. When an irresistible force encounters an immovable body, what is the consequence? They adjourn to Baltimore, and there smash the machine.

THE "RULING PASSION."—M. Retzius, we hear, died in the full pursuit of science. On his dying bed he made his observations on the progressing dissolution of his own body. "This struggle of death is hard," he said to those about him; "but it is of the highest interest to note this wrestle between life and death! now the legs are dead; now the muscles of the bowels cease their function; the last struggle must be heavy, but for all that it is highly interesting." These were his last words.—London Athenæum.

☞An Islington artisan has contrived a burning glass of such extraordinary power that it has not only served to concentrate the rays of the sun, but the attention of the learned societies in England. Its diameter is three feet, and the hardest and most solid substances, such as steel, flint, and even platina, are melted by it in a few seconds. Nor is the diamond able to resist it. One weighing ten grains, after having been exposed to the lens for half an hour, was reduced to six grains. During this time it opened and foliated like the leaves of a flower, and emitted whitish fumes. When closed again it retained its former polish.

CRUEL DEVICE FOR TESTING THE STRENGTH OF HORSES.—Two carters were charged, in the Edinburgh (Scotland) Burgh Court, with ill-treating, abusing, and torturing two horses under their charge, on the afternoon of the 16th ult., by tying together, back to back, the two carts to which said horses were yoked, and lashing the animals with whips to cause them to pull against each other until one of the horses was overpowered, and dragged a considerable distance along the ground. The carters plead guilty, and were each fined 10s. and costs, with the alternative of twenty days' imprisonment.

☞In America we have springs of salt water; in Cheshire (England) there are beds of red salt, 30 feet thick; in Poland there are salt mines extending for several miles in caverns, at a depth of 600 feet beneath the surface; at Cordova, Spain, there is a mountain of salt 300 feet high; and in Peru there are salt mines 10,000 feet above the level of the sea.

☞The heart has no avenue as open as that of flattery.

☞Hon. RICHARD YATES, Republican candidate for Governor in Illinois, addressed a mass-meeting at Springfield on the 7th inst. We regret that we have not room to copy the whole of his speech, which was a lucid and forcible exhibition of Republican principles; but we extract the following passages relative to Mr. Lincoln:

"Now, fellow citizens, it may strike you as rather a strange matter, that the people of so great a nation as this should come to Illinois for its President,—that the mighty Republican party should look to this far-away Prairie State for its standard-bearer in such a momentous contest. Yet I say, here to-day, that I have heard the great men of this nation, North and South, East and West, four consecutive years in the Hall of the House of Representatives, and in the Senate of the United States; I have heard the Stephens and Toombs of the South, the Sewards, Chases, and Corwins of the North; I have heard the most renowned orators on the floor of the Senate and the House daily for years; and I say here to-day, that for clearness of statement, for penetration of thought, for power of irresistible logic, for broad, comprehensive, statesmanlike views, for exalted purity of private and public character, your own Abraham Lincoln is the clearest, noblest, purest and best of them all. In the history of his life—in all the elements which inspire with enthusiasm the hearts of the masses of mankind, and rouse the millions to action, I stand up here to-day in this Capital of the State, and in the presence of my countrymen, to say that the name of Abraham Lincoln is this day and hour the mightiest name upon the Continent of North America. [Prolonged cheers.]

"My friend Green, who introduced me, told me the first time he ever saw Lincoln, he was in the Sangamon River, his pants rolled up some five feet, more or less, trying to pilot a flat-boat over a mill-dam. The boat had become so full of water that it was very difficult to manage, and almost impossible to get over the dam. Lincoln finally contrived to get her prow over so that it projected a few feet, and there it stood. But he then invented a new way of bailing a flat-boat. He bored a hole through the bottom to let the water run out, and then corked her up, and she launched right over. [Great laughter.] I think the captain who proved himself so fitted to navigate the broad-horn over the dam, is no doubt the man who is to stand on the deck of the old ship 'Constitution,' and guide her safely over the billows and breakers that surround her. [Enthusiastic & prolonged applause.]

"I said that Lincoln was once a poor boy. And is it nothing? Is there no lesson in his life to you, fellow citizens? Is not his example and his achievement a lesson to the hopeful, the young and the poor? And will you blame the people if they love their own? He is the best friend of labor, who has himself labored. He can best sympathize with the people in their wants. Is the story of his life nothing? He is the representative of the great idea of the Republican party—labor—free labor; the representative of the genius of our free institutions. A boy, the son of poor parents, himself poor, begins life unaided, save by his own industry and genius, struggles on, advancing step by step, through many years of patient and earnest endeavor, until he rises to that proudest of all human elevations, the Presidency of the United States.

"What an example here is for our children. Hereafter, the poor boy who follows him in history as he leaves the State of Kentucky, at the age of six years, and grows up in Indiana, laboring faithfully with his hands, going to Illinois and working on step by step, until he becomes the mighty statesman, and honored chief of thirty millions of freemen—as the poor boy of future years reads the story, he will find strange emotions in his breast, and determine to emulate the example of the noble Lincoln. [Cheers.] The poor boy—the poorest of you, though his parents may be humble, though he may have to face the cold winds of Winter and the Summer's sun, however poor he may be, in this land of freedom, where the avenues to office and success are open to all, he can point to Abraham Lincoln, and straighten himself up and say, 'I have the same right and same opportunity to be President as any other boy.'

"Fellow citizens, the name of Abraham Lincoln, which we present to you, is a winning name—a name to rally on where freedom requires a champion—a name to boast of wherever you would point to an honest man or a patriot—a name to love wherever affection would seek a warm-hearted and generous spirit—a name which is a spell to be summoned in favor of liberty and humanity." [Tremendous applause.]

A Big Screw Loose.

Major THOMAS P. CAMPBELL, one of the best stump-speakers in the State, and the leader of Locofocoism in Huntingdon county, has come out in favor of Lincoln, Hamlin, Curtin, and a Protective Tariff.—His influence will be felt in the present contest, as he is going to take the stump immediately. He can't go for Free Trade, and a broken-down, divided, and corrupt party any longer.

Terrible Civil War in Syria.

Sixty Villages Burnt—Wholesale Butchery of Men, Women and Children—The American Missionaries Safe.

A correspondent of the Boston Traveler, writing from Beirout, Syria, under date of June 6, gives an account of the civil war now raging near that vicinity. He says:

Druses and Christians, numbering hundreds of thousands, are now engaged in wholesale murder, arson and pillage, in which fiendish work they are aided by Turks, Moslems, Arabs, and the people known as the Metawalies.

From my window last week I counted from twenty to thirty burning villages upon the mountain, a few miles from Beirout, from whence the flash of musketry may easily be seen, and the volleys heard one after another in rapid succession, as they echo through the valleys. The dying and the dead are brought daily into the town in large numbers, and the widows and the orphans may be seen in great crowds weeping and wailing about the streets.

The barbarity of this war is truly shocking. Men, women and children are overtaken while fleeing for refuge and without arms, and ruthlessly slaughtered while praying for quarter.

The Christians have thus far suffered most terribly. Their villages have been burned, their crops destroyed, and great numbers have been brutally murdered, while the Druses, who are better warriors and far more courageous, are assisted by the Turks, Moslems and Metawalies, and up to this time have proved successful.

The bloody war which is waged on both sides as a war of extermination, has its origin in religious and political causes. The Christians and Druses hate each other with a deadly hatred on account of the differences in their religious faith—and the Christians hate the Druses with a special hatred because the Druses are in a great many of the mountain Christian districts feudal chiefs and rulers over the Christian of Maronite and Greek Catholic villages. The more immediate causes of the war may be traced to the fact that last summer at Bait Marri a quarrel arose, in which the Maronite Christians were victorious, having repulsed the Druses, killing forty or more, while their own loss was less than one-third of that number. Although peace was then declared, the Druses have since assassinated every Christian who came in their way.

This aroused the Christians, and so exasperated them that they made an attack upon several Druse villages. At first they were successful, but the Druses rallied under their warrior chiefs, and burned every Maronite and Greek Christian village within their reach. The provincial authorities pronounced the invading party—the Christians—to be rebels, and the Governor-General proceeded with all his available force to the mountains, and brought his cannon to bear upon the Christians. The Christians are rallying for the forlorn hope; for they fear that the Druses, thus aided, will endeavor to exterminate them. This, however, will not be an easy matter, as the Maronite Greeks and Greek Catholics number about two hundred and fifty thousand.

The American missionaries in Mount Lebanon have been greatly exposed, but as yet have suffered only for the want of provisions.

Upon the breaking out of the war Mr. Consul Johnson sent guards for their protection, and in some cases provisions—Some of the families of the Mission have come down to Beirout under an escort furnished by the Consul, and others are daily expected. No personal danger to the Americans in Mount Lebanon is apprehended, as they are well known and well protected, but their work is stopped by the war, their houses becoming asylums for the wounded and the fearful; in fact they are crowded out by the people who seek their protection; for, wherever the American flag is seen waving on the house-top, the people flock in great numbers for admission.

The humanity shown by the Americans in Beirout to the wounded, the homeless and the starving refugees from the mountains will long be remembered by the natives of the country.

The American Mission premises are crowded day and night by women and children crying for bread, which they receive with comfort and consolation from the American missionaries.

One of the largest of the towns, Deirel Kenir, is now in a state of siege, and great suffering is produced by the want of provisions. Deirel Kenir is a Turkish town, and is garrisoned by Turkish troops—unlike the other Turkish towns. In thus attacking a Turkish town the Druses become rebels, but the governor-general allowed the Druses to burn a large portion of the place before he interfered.

It has been estimated at the British consulate that about sixty villages have been burned. It is believed that the European powers will now interfere in behalf of the Christians of Syria and relieve them from the Turkish yoke.

This morning we learn of a large number of peasantry having been induced to return to their villages, where they were all killed in cold blood—and of the murder of five ecclesiastics of the Latin church, who were shot down near the walls of Sidon.

The success of the Druses has undoubtedly stirred up all the Moslem hostility to Christians, and a general insurrection seems to be trembling in the balance. The presence of a Russian frigate of thirty guns gives the feeling of security to the Frank population of Beirout, and the expected arrival of a French fleet is hailed with delight.

The absence of an American vessel of war is deeply regretted at this time. The U. S. steamer "Iroquois" is somewhere in the Mediterranean sea, but it is supposed she is detained at Sicily.

THE REWARD OF CHARITY.—A youth by the name of John Butterworth, in Bedford county, Va., a year or two ago, found an old Englishman, then living in Roanoke county, lying by the roadside in an intoxicated condition. Young Butterworth procured a buggy, carried the old man home, warmed him, and nursed him until restored to health. When the young man was leaving the house, the old gentleman remarked that he would remember him. The old gentleman afterwards removed to Texas, invested his funds and became wealthy. He died a short time ago, leaving his whole estate to his young friend, who thus becomes worth about one hundred thousand dollars.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

MONDAY, JULY 16, 1860.

The People's Candidates.

FOR PRESIDENT,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

HANNIBAL HAMLIN,

OF MAINE.

PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR,

ANDREW G. CURTIN,

Of Centre County.

PEOPLE'S COUNTY CONVENTION.

AT a meeting of the People's County Committee held in Gettysburg on Saturday the 23d of June, it was unanimously

Resolved, That the Citizens of Adams County, who are in favor of the election of ABRAHAM LINCOLN for President, and HANNIBAL HAMLIN for Vice-President of the United States, and ANDREW G. CURTIN for Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and who are opposed to the reckless policy of the present Administration, to Federal corruption and usurpation, to the extension of Slavery into the Territories, to the dangerous political dogma that the Constitution, of its own force, carries Slavery into all Territories, to the enactment of a Congressional Slave Code and to the re-opening of the African Slave Trade; and who are in favor of Protection to American Industry, of the immediate admission of Kansas into the Union, of restoring the Federal Administration to a system of rigid economy, and to the principles of Washington and Jefferson, of maintaining inviolate the rights of the States, and defending the soil of every State and Territory from lawless invasion, of preserving the integrity of the Union, and the supremacy of the Constitution and laws against the conspiracies and threats of Secessionists and Disunionists, be requested to meet at the usual places for holding Delegate elections, on Saturday the 4th day of August next, between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock, P. M., and elect two Delegates for each Borough and Township, to meet in County Convention, in Gettysburg, on Monday the 6th day of August next, to nominate a Ticket to be supported at the ensuing Election in October next, and to appoint Congressional Conferees, and to transact such other business as may be necessary.

By order of the County Committee.

R. C. SWOPE, CHAIRMAN.

D. MCCONAUGHY, Secretary.

An Apprentice

To the Printing business, will be taken at this Office. An immediate application is desired.

☞Our friend of the Compiler came home from Philadelphia, quite tickled with the idea that the two great contending factions of the Democracy had completely harmonized, and was quite jubilant over it—remarking that the Opposition leaders have been seriously disappointed "The Democracy they now see can unite," he exclaims, and is crowing lustily over the matter. A beautiful harmony it is—the Douglas men every where repudiating the movement, and indignant at the insult offered them; whilst the National Executive Committee at Washington have placed their foot upon the whole arrangement. Col. Forney, who is acknowledged as the leader of Douglas' party in Pennsylvania, indignantly spurns the degrading alliance tendered by the fusionists—and is ready to stand or fall in undying resistance to the spirit of secession which controls the machinery of the party. His views (remarks the Bucks co. Intelligencer) "are applauded and echoed by the real Douglas democrats of the State, who base their political action on principle, and are ready to sacrifice even Douglas himself, should he shrink from the encounter.—There are enough of these men to make themselves felt in the canvass. They are broadly detached from the main body of the party, and are not likely to re-join it upon the conditions offered. They significantly intimate that Lincoln is vastly preferable to a candidate who has identified himself with slavery extension in every form and shape"

☞Our up-street friend has not yet hoisted the flag of either of the "Simon Pure" candidates for President, but very tamely awaits the result of the compromise which the friends of Breckenridge concocted in Philadelphia. That piece of timber has been knocked from under him by the indignant refusal of the Douglas men to go into such an arrangement, and we shall look forward with considerable interest to his future course. He has never been in such a tight place before—and we really have compassion on him, as he has been under the necessity of assuming such a tame and twistical course, after the bold and energetic stand he has hitherto taken in politics.

☞Ex-United States Senator Brodhead, in his Easton speech, says, "It is folly to deny that the Democratic party is surrounded by adverse circumstances."

The gentleman is right—it is surrounded by an indignant nation and the Corode Committee.

☞It is said that Mr. Buchanan has saved up something handsome from his salary, to be his comfort and support in his old age. Considering the Corode report, we should think such might be the case.

Distressing Event.

On Tuesday last, Miss ANNA MARY WOLF, daughter of Mr. Jacob Wolf, deceased, of Hamilton township, and an interesting young lady of about 20 years of age, was on the top of a load of grain which was being taken from the field to the barn, when when in passing over a part of the road which had been washed by the rains, the wagon gave a sudden lurch, and she was thrown to the ground, and her neck dislocated by the fall. She died instantly. It is indeed a sad event, and has cast a gloom over that whole community.

☞Fatal Injury.—Mr. JACOB STREMMEL, a carpenter, living six miles from Hanover, on the Black Rock road, whilst shingling the roof of a barn on the 4th, by the breaking of a lath was precipitated to the ground, a distance of probably 26 feet. He received such a severe spinal injury, that he was paralized, and died on the following Wednesday. He was about 36 years of age, and has left a wife and several small children.

New Livery Stable.

Our enterprising friend, Mr. SAMUEL HERBST, has purchased the Livery Establishment of CHARLES M. TATE, deceased, on Chambersburg street, a few doors below the "Eagle Hotel," and is prepared to furnish the public with everything convenient in the travelling line. His establishment will be found in fine order. He will be at the Hotel, or at his residence just opposite, to attend to calls.

☞We refer our readers to Mr GEO. PETERS & Co's. advertisement of Nursery in another column, and to the change of Agency, Mr. R. S. PANTON, and others being now appointed in place of JOHN BURKHOLDER, Esq Peters' Nurseries embrace a large and choice selection of trees, &c. Their trees undoubtedly will prove satisfactory to purchasers and may be relied upon as being true to name.

☞By the late action of the Democratic State Committee, the Chairman of the Committee was directed to address a letter to the Democratic electors, requesting a pledge that they will conform with the arrangements of the committee. One of them, the Hon. Richard Vaux, of Philadelphia, has replied in pretty tart language, and calls the proposition "extraordinary and unexampled." He says he will vote for the only regularly nominated candidates S. A. Douglas, and H V. Johnson, "and shall so vote until the Electoral College finishes the task the Constitution imposed on it."

Our neighbor, Hon. J. B. DANNER, is one of the Electors, also, and judging from his conversation, we presume he will reply in pretty much the same manner that Mr. VAUX has.

☞The edict of the Douglas Central Executive Committee against any co-operation with the Breckenridge democracy is followed by another from Mr. Haldeman, the Pennsylvania member of that committee, to the same effect; and Mr. Douglas himself has authorized the statement that he fully concurs with those of his friends who resist all propositions for coalition or union with his democratic opponents. The efforts made in Pennsylvania towards a common action of democrats are therefore, to a great extent, paralyzed.

☞The fight still goes on. The Democratic Convention in Cambria county met on Monday last, and had a fight like the Charleston and Baltimore Conventions.—Geo. N. Smith received the votes of 33 delegates as a candidate for the Legislature, whereupon 27 delegates bolted, left the Convention, assembled at another place, and nominated another ticket. The Smith delegates also remained in Convention, and nominated a full county ticket. The Democrats, therefore, have two tickets in the field. The People's Party last year elected their member over one candidate, and it must be a strange thing if they have not acquired strength enough by this time to whip two.

☞Col. Zachariah T. Windsor, Collector of the State and County Taxes for Frederick county, Md, died in that city during the night of the 6th inst. He was found dead in his bed in the morning, having expired without a struggle under an attack of apoplexy. He was in perfect health the evening previous. He was highly respected in that community, and leaves a large number of mourning relatives and friends.

☞A terrible calamity occurred at St. Joseph's Missouri, on the 6th inst., by the falling of a block of buildings. Nine persons were crushed to death—five of whom were of one family, Mr. Samuel Harburger, his wife, two children, and servant girl.—A fire broke out immediately in the ruins, and there wat a large destruction of goods and furniture. One firm lost $80,000, another $70,000.

Glorious News from Oregon.

We have news from Oregon to the effect that Mr. LOGAN, Republican candidate for Congress, is elected by one hundred and fifty majority, and that the Legislature is in the hands of the anti-Administration party, thus securing the overthrow of Lane and the election of a Republican and anti-Lecompton Democrat to the United States Senate! This is cheering news and glorious enough for one day!

☞The steamer North Star arrived at New York on Thursday, from California, with a million and a half in gold.

A Beautiful Public Servant.

On Friday last, we received the following courteous epistle, from the Post-master at Selma, Alabama, which we copy for the benefit of the friends of the present corrupt Administration, to show them to what lengths their rulers go. It is a pretty state of things, indeed, when a newspaper, moderate and calm as the "Sentinel," cannot have permission to penetrate any point in this beautiful, broad land of our's, and reach its patrons, and those, too, who were natives of our County, and anxious to keep posted in home news—because that paper feels disposed to support Mr. Lincoln for the Presidency. And, forsooth, the "Sentinel" must be burnt, and this at the dictation of a petty Post-master. If the Post-master General does not promptly remove such a low-minded, bigoted tool of Southern fire-eaters, he should meet himself with the contempt of all right-thinking members of even his own party. We have sent him a copy of the letter, and shall await his action.

Post-Office, Selma, Alabama,
July 6, 1860.

ROBERT G. HARPER, Esq.:

Sir—You will please to discontinue your paper, sent to the following subscribers, Geo. J. Weaver, Levi Weaver, and Wm. Ickes, which embrace your hold [whole] package for this Office. We want no "Black Republican" paper south of Mason's & Dixon's line, and would advise you to keep your Abraham Lincoln sheets nearer home where they will be read and not burnt.

Respectfully,

S. M. CONNER, Asst. P. M.

More Insulting Action!

On Saturday last, we received through the Post-Office, the copies of the "Sentinel" of July 2d, directed to the three individuals named above, which were, instead of being delivered to those individuals, returned to us, with the following insulting remarks by the impudent Post-master:

1. The one directed by us to WM. ICKES had the following written on it by the P. M.:—"Alabama is no place for this paper."

2. The one directed to GEO. J. WEAVER had "Stop the Abotelion (we presume he meant Abolition) sheet"

3. The one directed to LEVI WEAVER had "Stop immediately if no sooner."

And this is the action of a man "dressed in a little brief authority." He fancies, because he happens to hold an office under the Government, he can do as he pleases, and set up his own judgment as a standard of right. We shall show that gentleman, before we are done with him, that we have rights, too, and dare maintain them. If the General Post-Office Department should neglect to do its duty in this case, we shall add another item to the list of corruptions of the present Administration, which the People will shortly pass judgment on—But we feel almost confident that the Head of that Department will, at once, let that Deputy of his at Selma, Alabama, know by his removal from office, that he is unqualified for his responsible post. Men's rights are not to be trifled with in this free land of our's.

We have advised the Post-master General of this additional infraction of law.

The Fourth at Littlestown.

They had a grand time at Littlestown on the Fourth. Aside from other patriotic demonstrations, such as the firing of musketry, pistols, &c, they had a grand fantastical parade, which "took down" everything in that line ever gotten up in the place In addition to this the Japanese made their appearance, and were escorted through the town accompanied by the Mount Pleasant Brass Band, bearing all the insignia of rank and position, which characterized the Orientals recently on a visit to this country. The Embassy received a cordial reception at the hands of the town authorities—the acting Mayor, WM. MCSHERRY, Esq., making a happy and appropriate address on the occasion.—the Japs were furnished apartments at Mr. STRINE'S hotel, where a splendid dinner was spread, and the Declaration read in the afternoon. During the day the stars and stripes were seen floating from all the prominent points in the town, and in several places arches of Evergreens, trimmed with American and Japanese flags, were thrown across the streets. In the evening there was a fine display of Fireworks and a grand Ball. Upon the whole it was a big day in Littlestown; and we are told by those present, that everything passed off pleasantly and very creditably.—Star.

☞A Long Absence.—The U. S. corvette Macedonian, late of the Mediterranean Squadron, arrived at Portsmouth, N. H., on Wednesday last. She has been two years and four months in commission, during which time she has touched at all the navigable harbors in the south of Europe.

☞The Albany Journal says: How is Douglas to be elected? The South won't support him. The "Hards" will discard him; the Administration will thrust him out as heretical and irregular; and, last of all, the People will give him the "cold shoulder." Lincoln beat him in his own State, on the popular vote, last year; and he will beat him everywhere, in the Electoral vote now. He is certainly a "gone sucker."

☞A Texan paper says of Gen. Sam Houston that he looks feeble in health.—He now goes upon a crutch, because of lameness in one of his ankles, the effect of a wound received at San Jacinto.

A Candid Confession.

The Compiler quotes last week, with approval, the remarks of the Harrisburg Patriot & Union on the arrangement made at Philadelphia to unite the two great contending factions. That paper says—"if they reject this arrangement, they practically give the State to the enemy, abandon all hope of carrying the Legislature, and seal the fate of both Douglas and Breckenridge." As the arrangement has been repudiated by one of the parties, of course, all the results above mentioned will follow, taking it for granted that they themselves tell the truth. We are glad to find that they are becoming awake to the fact, that their corrupt rule is at an end, and that honest men are about to take the Government into their hands, and administer it faithfully. It is better for them to prepare themselves gradually for this result—for too sudden a deprivation of the "loaves and fishes" might shock their very sensitive natures. They see the hand-writing on the wall—and are preparing for the shock. It is well to look at the matter philosophically.

☞It is very evident that Mr. DOUGLAS, though he had a very large majority of the Democrats both at Charleston and Baltimore, is likely to be chiseled out of the Democratic vote by the friends of Breckenridge, with President Buchanan and his office-holders at the head Every thing that can be made to tell against Douglas, and favor Breckenridge, is now resorted to—the result of which will be, that the former has no chance at all to succeed in his election either by the people, or in the House. This underhand manœuvre, and unparty-like action has aroused the ire of the Douglas-men, and they appear to have no alternative left to defeat the man who has ruined the prospects of their candidate, but to directly or indirectly aid in the election of Mr. Lincoln. This is the only course left them to pay back the indignity and unfairness with which they have been treated by the Buchanan and Breckenridge division of the Democracy. And we shall not be at all surprised if they do not make their mark that it will be felt.

In a Quandary.

Very few of the Democratic papers in Pennsylvania know what to do just now. The Philadelphia Press, Washington Review, Harrisburg Sentinel, Pittsburg Post, and the West Chester Republican, go for Douglas; The Philadelphia Argus, Norristown Watchman, and Reading Gazette, hoist the name of Breckenridge. The Lancaster Intelligencer puts up both tickets; while the Pennsylvanian, the Harrisburg Union, the Washington Examiner, the York Press, the West Chester Jeffersonian, the Compiler, and the country papers generally, "mourn the rash and intemperate counsels that have brought this great calamity upon the Democratic party," but decline, for the present, to take sides with either.

☞The Central Committees of the two wings at Washington denounce the Pennsylvania attempted fusion bitterly. They want separate Electoral Tickets run in every State. Fusion is "no go." In Ohio the Breckenridgers bolted from the Democratic State Convention last week, and set up for themselves. So they did in the Baltimore City Executive Committee, and so they go everywhere. "It's a' a muddle!"

Once More on the Stump.

The telegraph announces that Mr. BUCHANAN was serenaded by the participants in the BRECKENRIDGE ratification meeting in Washington City. A speech from Mr BUCHANAN was part of the programme—This is positively the first appearance of J. B. upon the stump since the Democratic nominations for President. He indorsed the BRECKENRIDGE nomination as regular and orthodox.

Is it not a singular spectacle to see the Chief Magistrate of the Republic sinking the dignity of his position and betaking himself to the "stump?" How it must degrade us in the eyes of civilized nations, to behold the first officer in our government playing the demagogue and partisan.

Government Corruptions.

Where the Money came from.—Isaac West, a gentleman well-known to many of the citizens of Chester county, was a witness before the Covode Investigating Committee For many years he kept the White Hall Hotel, in West Chester, and in 1847 was the Democratic nominee against Brinton Darlington for Sheriff. The Committee in their report say: It appears by the testimony of George Plitt that over $70,000 was distributed by him as the Treasurer of the Democratic Central Committee of Pennsylvania in 1856, to carry that State for Buchanan; of this sum nearly $20,000 was received from what is known as the New York Hotel Fund, and $10,000 from W. C. N. Swift, of New Bedford, Mass. The remainder was derived from different sources, quite a large sum thereof being collected in the shape of assessments upon the employees of the Government in the offices at Washington, and the Custom House and Navy Yard at Philadelphia.

☞Two houses of Mr. Samuel Ott, in Chambersburg, were destroyed by fire on Tuesday last, and Mr. Decklemayer's and Mr. Ditman's very much injured. There was a good deal of loss in furniture also.

☞A block of 21 four-story houses in New Orleans, was destroyed by fire on Saturday week.

Visit of the Prince of Wales to New York.

A letter has been received by Mayor Wood, of New York, from Hon. George M. Dallas, U. S. minister at the Court of St. James, enclosing another letter from Lord John Russell, in answer to the invitation of the New York common council to the Prince of Wales to visit that city after his Canadian tour. His Lordship states that the invitation is accepted, and that "he is commanded to express to Mr. Dallas the high sense entertained of the importance of strengthening by every means the relations of friendship and regard which bind this country to the United States of America."

While, however, it will be as a private English gentleman that the Prince will visit us, it is stated that at Washington he will be received by our government in his character of heir apparent to the English crown.

☞It appears from facts just revealed, that the President, on learning from the public journals that the Prince of Wales was about visiting the British North American Provinces, addressed Queen Victoria on the 4th of June, saying that he should be happy to give him a cordial welcome to Washington, assuring her that everywhere in this country he will be greeted by the American people in such a manner as cannot fail to prove gratifying to her Majesty. In this they will manifest their deep sense of her domestic virtues, as well as their convictions of her merits as a wise, patriotic and constitutional sovereign.

The Queen replies, under date of June 22d, expressing her gratification at the feelings which prompted the President to invite the Prince to visit Washington, and adding that it will give him great pleasure to have an opportunity of testifying to the President in person that those feelings are fully reciprocated. He will thus be able at the same time to mark the respect which he entertains for the chief magistrate of a great and friendly State and kindred nation.

HOW THE PRESIDENT SPENT THE FOURTH.—The President remained within the walls of the Executive mansion on the 4th during the entire day. A few political friends called on him, but aside from this he was not intruded on by the people, but left to seriously contemplate the present distracted state of the country and the disgrace which his unfortunate administration has brought upon it.

☞The disturbance at the Breckenridge meeting in Philadelphia, and the indignity offered to Gen. Lane by the Douglas rowdies, have intensified the hostility between the divisions, so that they denounce each other in the most unmeasured terms.

☞The Democracy of Ohio, in the State Convention on Thursday, after nominating a State ticket, passed resolutions endorsing Douglas and Johnson, when some fifty Breckenridge men withdrew, and measures were adopted for another Convention. So they go.

☞The N. O. Delta knows no mercy in its warfare on the Breckenridge party.—Jus. listen:

"The Disunion squad, over whom Cushing, a renegade Abolitionist, was called upon to preside, to guide and direct their treasonable proceedings, are joyous in their expectation, not of electing their creatures, John C. Breckenridge and illiterate Joe Lane, of Oregon war-debt utility, but that, by this conjunction, they will be able to defeat Douglas and Johnson, and secure the success of the rail-splitting Abolitionist Lincoln, and thus produce the contingency Yancey and his confederates so sanguinely anticipate, when they can precipitate the cotton States into revolution."

Another Sign.

As an index to the state of feeling now existing between the rival factions of the Democratic party, we quote the following resolution from a series passed by a Douglas mass meeting held in Independence Square, Philadelphia, on the 4th of July:

"Resolved, That if the pretended compromise passed by a bare majority of the State Central Committee, had either justice or equity for its object, that Committee would have proposed that a discriminating ticket, with the names of Douglas and Breckenridge upon it as electors, be run in each of the States composing the Union, in order to ascertain which of them is the choice of the Democracy; but as no such proposition was made, we view the proposed compromise as nothing better than a lure to cheat the National Democracy out of the regular nominees of the party—Douglas and Johnson; and that we spurn the proposition with contempt, as disastrous to the present and future organization of the Democratic party."

DON'T KNOW WHO TO "HOLLER" FOR.—The Wilmington Watchman, the Democratic organ of Clinton county, publishes all the Presidential tickets and don't know who to "holler" for. Its quandary is funny, but not singular, in the double condition of the Democracy. The editor says:

"We are decidedly at a loss to know what will be the result of all this "mix" and we are in a greater loss as to how to holler: we are anxious to holler for somebody, but are afraid to, for you know we might wake up the wrong passenger—that is, we might get on the wrong side—and then we would be in a circumstance."

☞In Virginia, the Breckenridge men are very anxious that there should be only one Democratic Electoral ticket. They earnestly implore the friends of Douglas not to throw obstacles in the way, but to stand up and be sacrificed with cheerfulness.

"Will you walk into my parlor?"
Said the spider to the fly," &c.

Fusion Repudiated by the Douglas Men.

A circular has been published by the "National Democratic Executive Committee," at Washington, in which that body utterly repudiates any idea of fusion with the Breckenridge men, whom they call the Seceders, that has been or may be entertained. They say:

"So far as is known to the members of the resident Executive Committee, no person who supports the action of the National Democratic Convention at Baltimore—no person who desires the election of Stephen A. Douglas to the Presidency, and of Herschel V. Johnson to the Vice-Presidency, has ever expressed a wish for any such arrangement, or entertained, or even countenanced, for a single moment, any suggestion or proposition tending toward it. Nor does the Committee believe that any such arrangement can with propriety be made at any time, in any place, or under any circumstances, with those who have placed Breckenridge and Lane in nomination, and are now their avowed supporters, in opposition to the regular nominees of the Democratic party.

"If the Seceders and their friends choose to separate permanently from the Democratic party, and run a ticket in opposition to the regular nominations, let them do so. Upon them be the responsibility of the result."

Great Inconsistency.

The Douglas men have associated with their hero upon the Presidential ticket, one Herschel V. Johnson, of Georgia. He was selected by a Committee in place of Fitzpatrick, who was nominated by the Convention, but declined. Neither the people nor the Convention had anything to do with the matter. If they had, they perhaps would have chosen a man with a better record than Mr. Johnson can show. His speeches and acts for the last fifteen years prove him to be in favor of protection to slavery in the territories, a secessionist and a disunionist—in fact, a bitter foe of popular sovereignty in every shape. He goes for nothing that can possibly operate against the pet institution of slavery. Not six weeks ago, he presented a report to the Georgia Convention, signed by himself and others, claiming absolute protection for slave property by the General Government.—Thus in all respects he is as thorough a propagandist and secessionist as Breckenridge and Lane, and is not one whit more worthy the votes of Northern freemen. Douglas, by consenting to be associated with Johnson, becomes responsible for the same opinions, and must suffer heavily in consequence. Fortunately for the country, however, there is little danger of Johnson ever being called upon to fill a position where his power can be used against the progress of freedom. "Honest Abe" will receive the support of all who wish to rebuke the rampant spirit of secession and disunion.

The Candidates for Governor.

A few days ago, both the candidates for Governor of this State were in Philadelphia, stopping at the Girard House, and both were seen sitting side by side upon the same sofa, indulging in the most friendly conversation. They were not seen actually to kiss, but we have not the least doubt they took a drink out of the same bottle! Both gentlemen received numerous visitors during their stay, and no one unacquainted with their respective positions would suppose them to be opposing candidates for the same office. It is a high compliment to both gentlemen, when we say that throughout the canvass neither will either utter or assent to a disrespectful word concerning the other. This is as it should be, and shows that the millenium is approaching.—Telegraph.

The Candidates.

As the election for President and Vice-President, in November next, will partake somewhat of the nature of a scrub-race, a list of the entries, with the residence and age of each competitor, will be useful for future reference. We present, therefore, one in a compact and convenient form, as follows:

NOMINEES FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

	Residence.	Born.	Age.
Repub.—Abraham Lincoln,	Illinois,	Feb. 12, 1809.	51
Union.—John Bell,	Tenn.	Feb 18, 1797.	63
Demo.—S. A. Douglas,	Illinois,	Ap. 23, 1813.	47
Demo.—J. C. Breckenridge,	Ky.	Jan 16, 1821.	39

CANDIDATES FOR THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.

	Residence.	Born.	Age.
Repub.—Hannibal Hamlin,	Maine,	Aug 27, 1809.	51
Union.—Edward Everett,	Mass.	Ap. 11, 1794.	66
Demo.—H. V. Johnson,	Georgia,	Sept. 18, 1812.	48
Demo.—Joseph Lane,	Oregon,	Dec. 14, 1801.	59

A Good Time Coming.

For some months past, the Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, the politician, has been uttering jeremiades over the alleged deplorable condition of the country. But on the Fourth, Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, the statesman and patriot, spoke in clear, ringing tones of the strength, glory, and perpetuity of the Union. No one listened to his lamentations of the politician excepting the few who "had axes to grind," but the national heart responds to the statesman's words of cheer. He believes LINCOLN will be elected in November, and this event will, of itself, crush sectionalism, and confound traitors, and preserve the Union.

☞Reverdy Johnson expresses a hope that every Democrat will "keep step to the music of his party." But, as the Democratic party is whistling a slow march out of one corner of its mouth and a quick one out of the other, how would a poor Democrat look trying to keep step to its music?

☞A pretty smart fellow writes to the Madison Courier, that the Republicans got the name of Black Republicans because they are in favor of keeping the nigger black, in contra-distinction to those Democrats who are for making him yellow.

The Demand for Breadstuffs.

The advices from Europe justify us in expecting a very large demand for breadstuffs during the coming year. The season has been so wet and cold in England that a deficiency of at least four million quarters is already estimated as certain, while the supply in the markets of the United Kingdom of Great Britain is less by about one million six hundred thousand quarters than last year at the same date. Private letters from the highest banking authorities confirm the statements of the public press, and predict a large demand for American produce. Nor is this impending scarcity confined to the British Islands. The continent is not likely to have any surplus. All accounts agree that the crops throughout central Europe have suffered much from the severity of the weather. On the other hand, Providence has favored this country with the assurance of a crowning harvest.—Our crops in the southwest are considered beyond the reach of any casualty which human intelligence can foresee, and, as a natural consequence, the surplus of the old crop is rapidly coming eastward. Indeed, much of it is already on its way to meet the foreign demand.

An Awful Death—A Man Dragged Two Miles by a Horse.

[From the Kingston (C. W.) Journal.]

William Dewall, a farmer who lived about three miles from Lake Hill, in the town of Woodstock, was killed, on Thursday last, under the most painful circumstances. He had been ploughing corn in one of his fields, in sight of his dwelling, during the forenoon of that day, and when called to dinner by his wife, unhitched his horse from the plough, threw the traces over its back and mounted it to ride to the house. Just as he was passing a brook that ran across the way, one of the traces slipped down, the chain end of it wound closely around his ankle, and its hook caught in a link. His horse was a spirited animal and immediately grew unmanageable; first it threw him from its back and then started off at full speed, drawing him along on the ground. After it ran to the barn and around it several times, Mrs Dewall saw the dreadful condition of her husband and hastened to his relief, but this only frightened the animal the more, and turning in another direction it jumped over a wood pile, causing a dreadful mutilation of Mr. Dewall's body, and then ran off for a distance of two miles before any one could stop it. The appearance of Mr Dewall's person was horrid in the extreme. In the flight of the horse, he had been literally torn and crushed to pieces. His head was a mangled mass. Along the way he had been dragged, flesh and blood were seen. When taken up he was altogether lifeless. The terrible affair created a deep gloom over the community in that section. The occurrence of such an accident, when there was not the slightest cause for apprehension of danger, and the awful manner of Mr. Dewall's death, made this an extraordinarily afflictive and impressive casualty.

UNDER WHICH KING?—An occurrence in one of the interior counties of New York ludicrously illustrates the bewilderment into which the double-headed Presidential nomination has thrown the Democracy. When the news of the nomination of Douglas flashed along the wires, a village Postmaster summoned "the unterrified" to bring out the gun and fire a salute. They had got about half through the allotted number of discharges, when a messenger from the telegraph office informed them that the Seceders had nominated Breckenridge. "The d——l they have," said the Postmaster.—Standing a moment in a brown study, he shouted, "Boys! there is no knowing into whose hands we may fall. Load for Breckenridge!"

A "FANCY" PIC NIC—DISGRACEFUL SCENE.—Prostitution, always bold, would seem to be growing bolder in this region—The Lancaster Express says that on Monday the Sisters of Shame gave a pic nic at Muddy Springs, on the Conestoga, near that city, at which there were about seventy-five abandoned women, hailing from Harrisburg, Lancaster, Columbia and other points. Of course all the roughs and blackguards were in attendance. With such a conglomeration of all the filth which could be scraped up out of the purlies of moral degradation, no one need be surprised that obscenity, profanity, vulgarity and rowdyism reigned supreme. Several fights took place, which, however, were less objectionable than the ordinary programme of the day. Comment is unnecessary.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

LYNCH LAW IN IOWA.—A letter from Fairfield, Iowa, to the Burlington Hawkeye states that John Kephart, the murderer of Mrs. Jane Willis and her two children, was lynched on the 5th inst. About two hundred and fifty men from the vicinity of Batavia, where the victims were found, organized on horseback and came into Fairfield, and rode to the court-house and jail, where the murderer was confined, and surrounded it. The citizens rapidly assembled. The county judge and several citizens addressed and urged them to let the law take its course. This was of no avail. They said they had come for Kephart and would have him, and they had erected his scaffold and dug his grave. They then took a scantling and battered down the doors to his cell, and then quietly carried him to the place where the crime was committed and there hung him.

TERRIBLE WEATHER AT THE SOUTH.—In Charleston, S. C., on the 4th instant, the thermometer stood at 102 deg. in the shade. Eight persons died of sun stroke, including two members of the German Fusiliers and two members of the German Artillery, who died on parade. At Augusta, Ga., the heat was terrible, and there were six deaths from sun stroke. Jesse B. Kent died from the heat while on the cars going out of the city. In Savannah the thermometer was 90 degrees at midnight, and five persons died from the heat during the day.

☞John Dudley, for many years one of the head workmen of the Washington Arsenal, has been appointed by the Government to go to Japan with the returning Embassy, and superintend the putting up the various articles of machinery presented by the United States and her citizens.

VISIT OF THE PRINCE OF WALES TO THE UNITED STATES.—Lord Lyons has officially advised the President of the United States that the Prince of Wales intends leaving England at an early day for Canada, and that he will proceed from Canada directly to Washington. This is the first official intimation our government has had in regard to the matter. The President has not indicated as yet what steps he will take in reference to this important event, but he will undoubtedly do all that is necessary, at least so far as he has power to do.

☞When James Buchanan retires March 4, 1861, the national debt will not be less than $100,000,000. The expenses of the present Administration, in time of profound peace, are greater by double than of Mr. Fillmore's, who paid the debt incurred by the Mexican war.

☞Prentice says the Democratic party may well sit upon "two stools." It isn't merely a two headed concern. No! It has two bodies as well as two heads, but unlike the Siamese twins they are not united either by ligament or affinity. They are ready to fly at each other's throats and tear each other to pieces. It is idle mockery to speak of success of either of these factions.

☞Mr. Breckenridge is said to be the youngest candidate ever nominated for the Presidency. He is but 39 years of age—only three years beyond the age at which a man becomes eligible to that office. His youth, however, can scarcely be urged as an objection. Even had he not reached the age required by the Constitution, he would have ample time to remedy that defect before his election.

DEATH OF N. P. HOBART, ESQ.—With regret we learn that Nathaniel P. Hobart, Esq., of Pottstown, Montgomery county, Auditor General of the State, under Gov. Ritner's Administration, died on the 3d inst., aged 71 years. Mr Hobart was always a prominent and influential citizen of Pennsylvania, and in his death the State, as well as Montgomery county, sustains a heavy loss.

BURNT TO DEATH IN A BONFIRE.—At Akron, Ohio, on the night of the Fourth, a bonfire was made, and Samuel O'Neil, carrying a barrel to the pile (which was already blazing with tar barrels and pine boxes), by accident fell headlong into the flames. He was, for seconds, not counted, in the midst of the fire, and came out crawling on his hands and knees, with not a shred of raiment on him. "Kill me!" he shrieked, "For God's sake kill me. Cut my throat—anything—only kill me." After all effort that medical or surgical skill could give had been rendered, he died, after suffering physical distress remarkable.—Cleveland Herald, 5th.

☞Dutton, who swindled the Muscatine (Iowa) Bank, of which he was cashier, out of $30,000, has been acquitted by a jury on the ground that he was demented by the habitual use of intoxicating drink.—Bank robbers always have a creep out hole. At least they seldom if ever get punished for their crimes.

Died,

On Monday last, Miss HANNAH M., daughter of Mr William Harper, of Cumberland township, aged 19 years 4 months and 9 days.

On the 10th ult., WM. H. WAGGAMAN son of Mr. James Waggaman, of Liberty township, in the 20th year of his age.

FRUIT & ORNAMENTAL TREES.

THE subscribers having within the three last years much enlarged their stock of Trees and Plants, will offer for sale during the fall of 1860, and spring of 1861, an unusually large and thrifty lot of Apple, Peach, Dwarf and Standard Pear, Plum, Cherry, Apricot, Nectarine, and Quince; also, Grape Vines, (of leading varieties,) Currants, Gooseberries, Raspberries, Blackberries and Strawberries of the most popular kinds; also, choice Miscellaneous Fruits, such as Spanish Chestnuts, English Walnuts, &c. together with a large variety of Ornamental and Ever greens, (all of the choicest kinds,) Shrubbery, Vines, Climbers, Roses, &c.

B. B. We would hereby caution the public against impostors fraudulently pretending to be our agents, with the design of speculating on the reputation of our Nurseries, in selling inferior trees. All persons known to be thus engaged will expose themselves to the penalty of the law, and will be dealt with accordingly. We have, since John Burkholder, Esq. has failed in selling, appointed R. S. Paxton, of Gettysburg, and several others to canvass this, and other adjoining Counties, to take orders for next fall delivery. We will be responsible for all trees and plants sold by such Agents, and only such as have an acknowledged certificate from us. All trees and plants sold by our agents will be delivered in proper season and in good order.

MURDER AND SUICIDE IN FULTON COUNTY.—A horrible case of murder and suicide occurred last Friday evening, near Fort Littleton, Fulton county, in this State. Richard Madden, a resident of that place, killed his wife, by beating her brains out with a board, and afterwards hung himself. No cause is assigned for the violent conduct of the husband, the family having just finished their supper, with no indication of the terrible calamity about to befall them.

Messrs. SHEADS & BUEHLER—GENTLEMEN:—Having purchased and used during the last season, the N. Jersey Reaper and Mower, I desire to add my testimony to that already given, as to its value and efficiency as a combined machine. For good work, either in grass or grain, I believe it has no superior; indeed in grass, I unhesitatingly say it is far better than any other machine, and for lightness of draft it is certainly better than any machine I have yet seen. The objection to other machines, that they rest heavily on the horses' neck, is obviated in the "N. Jersey," the weight on the horses being little or nothing.

Yours, &c., JOSEPH WALKER

SANFORD'S
LIVER INVIGORATOR,
NEVER DEBILITATES.

IT is compounded entirely from Gums, and has become an established fact, a Standard Medicine, known and approved by all that have used it, and is now resorted to with confidence in all the diseases for which it is recommended.

It has cured thousands within the last two years who had given up all hopes of relief, as the numerous unsolicited certificates in my possession show.

The dose must be adapted to the temperament of the individual taking it, and used in such quantities as to act gently on the bowels.

Let the dictates of your judgment guide you in the use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR, and it will cure Liver Complaints, Bilious Attacks, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Summer Complaints, Dysentery, Dropsy, Sour Stomach, Habitual Costiveness, Cholic, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Flatulence, Jaundice, Female Weaknesses, and may be used successfully as an Ordinary Family Medicine. It will cure SICK HEADACHE, (as thousands can testify,) in twenty minutes, if two or three Teaspoonfuls are taken at commencement of attack.

All who use it are giving their testimony in its favor.

MIX WATER IN THE MOUTH WITH THE INVIGORATOR, AND SWALLOW BOTH TOGETHER.

Price One Dollar per Bottle.

Farmers who may desire it are at liberty to work one of these Machines through the harvest with any other, and keep and pay for the one preferred.
The Machine is now perfectly balanced, not leaving a pound weight on the horses' neck; its execution in Reaping and Mowing, in both wet and dry, is perfect; it cuts the widest swath, and as now made, with the lightest draft of any Machine now in use. It is so constructed that the labor of raking off is very much lightened, a castor wheel, on an entire new principle, on the grain side, wholly relieves the horses from the pressure of the machine from strain in turning, and is so arranged that the cutting bar is completely and easily thrown over obstructions while in motion by the driver, without the use of levers and complicated machinery. A very decided and important feature in its improvement consists in its perfect arrangement for separating and cleaning the track in mowing.
It is the most simple, most substantial, most durable, and in every way the most complete and reliable Reaper and Mower in the world, and as such is Warranted.
The Two-Horse Machine (with easy draft for two horses), cuts a swath 5½ feet wide, and the Four-Horse Machine a foot wider.—For particulars address

Fruit and Ornamental Trees FOR SALE.
George Peters & Co.,
Proprietors of Fair-Mount Nurseries, Bendersville, Adams County, Pa.
WE would respectfully call the attention of the public to our large stock of Fruit and Ornamental Trees, such as Apple, Peach, Standard and Dwarf Pear, Cherry, Apricot and Plum Trees; Grapevines, Blackberry, Gooseberry and Currant stalks; Ornamental and Evergreen Trees, which we offer for next fall sales. We have appointed JOHN BURKHOLDER, Esq., our Traveling Agent, for Adams County, who is authorized to make sales and take Orders.
FAIR-MOUNT NURSERIES having been established for more than 20 years, the proprietors flatter themselves that their trees are of the best selected kinds. Having fruited many of them, they know what they are.—The greatly increased and increasing spirit of planting, as well as the degree of patronage extended to us, warrant us in greatly extending the Nurseries, so that we are prepared to offer for the autumn of 1860 and succeeding years a much more extensive stock than ever offered before—cultivating from Thirty five to Forty Acres, and containing several hundred thousand Trees at various stages of growth, all of which are grown on soil, and under treatment, best calculated to make a healthy and natural growth.
GEO. PETERS & CO.

The undersigned, having accepted the above Agency for the sale of fruit trees in this County, takes this method of informing the public, that those wishing to purchase Trees will please take the subject into consideration before I call personally upon them, as I expect to canvass a portion of the County. All letters upon the subject addressed to me at Bendersville, or left at any of the hotels in Gettysburg, will be attended to. Catalogues can be had at all the Printing Offices. Persons wishing to select from catalogues can there see them. I will be in Gettysburg during Court weeks, so that persons wishing to purchase fruit trees can see me. The cultivation of good fruit of all kinds has been entirely too much neglected in this County, as the demand for good fruit is very much on the increase.

PURIFY THE BLOOD.
Moffat's Vegetable Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters.
THE high and envied celebrity which these pre-eminent Medicines have acquired for their invariable efficacy in all the diseases which they profess to cure, has rendered the usual practice of puffing not only unnecessary, but unworthy of them. They are known by their fruits; their good works testify for them, and they thrive not by the faith of the credulous.
In all cases of Asthma, Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Bilious Fevers and Liver Complaints, in the South and West, where these diseases prevail, they will be found invaluable. Planters, farmers and others, who once use these Medicines, will never afterwards be without them.
Bilious Cholic and Serous Looseness, Biles, Costiveness, Cholic, Colds and Coughs.
Consumption.—Used with great success in this disease.
Corrupt Humors, Dropsies.
Dyspepsia.—No person with this distressing disease should delay using these medicines immediately.
Eruptions of the Skin, Erysipelas and Flatulency.
Fever and Ague.—For this scourge of the Western country these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy.—Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent. Try them, be satisfied, and be cured.
Foulness of Complexion, General Debility, Gout, Giddiness, Gravel, Headache of every kind, Inward Fever, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Impure Blood, Jaundice, Loss of Appetite.
Liver Complaints, Leprosy, Looseness, Mercurial Diseases.
Never fails to eradicate entirely all the effects of Mercury infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla.
Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Organic Affections, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Cholic.
Piles.—The original proprietor of these medicines was cured of Piles of 35 years' standing by the use of these Life Medicines alone.
Pains in the head, side, back, limbs, joints and organs.
Rheumatism.—Those afflicted with this terrible disease will be sure of relief by the Life Medicines.
Rush of blood to the head, Scurvy, Salt-Rheum, Swellings.
Scrofula, or King's Evil, in its worst forms, Ulcers of every description.
Worms of all kinds are effectually expelled by these medicines. Parents will do well to administer them whenever their existence is suspected. Relief will be certain.
The LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS purify the blood, and thus remove all diseases from the system.
Prepared by Dr. WM. B. MOFFAT, No. 335 Broadway, (Moffat Building) N. Y.

DR. S. FELLER'S FAMILY MEDICINES
ARE the only preparations of the kind placed before the public under the name of ECLECTIC. They are called Eclectic because they are carefully and scientifically selected—the BEST from all the GOOD—and approved by the most scientific men in the United States. They do not contain any Mercury, Antimony, or Opium, or anything that would be deleterious to the most delicate constitution.
All who understand the curing of disease know that medicines only assist nature, and unless they act and harmonize with nature, disease cannot be cured. Want of a proper knowledge of these facts causes many of our fellow citizens to go down to an untimely grave.
I can therefore recommend this preparation with the utmost confidence, and am fully persuaded, from past experience at the bed-side of the sick, that it will give very general, if not universal satisfaction. Yet, at the same time, I do not pretend to say that it is a CURE-ALL, or that it is, in all cases and circumstances, infallible. For when a remedy is set forth as "Cure-All," "Infallible," &c., the conclusion with me is irresistible, that the proprietor himself believes his remedy to be a humbug, and designed from the start to deceive the public.
SAMUEL CRONCE,
Wholesale Agent, York Sulphur Springs, Adams county, Pa., and for sale by Dr. Buehler, Gettysburg; J. S. Hollinger, Heidlersburg; Jacob King, Hunterstown; and Jacob A. Gardner, Petersburg.
We would say to the public, that all we want is a fair trial, and it will recommend itself.
